

In the UK Balancing Mechanism (BM), the efficient remuneration for DSR is the market clearing price less the retail energy price*

What is the value of demand response?

- The provider of DSR in the BM – after accounting for its BM trade and obligation to the related supplier - should be rewarded with the market clearing price less the retail price it would otherwise have paid on its foregone demand

Visual representation of the DSR value to customer

How does the demand response remuneration work?

Example

